NGBS Green Remodel: What you Need to Know

Course Description:

Existing multifamily and mixed-use buildings can use the National Green Building Standard® ICC-700 (NGBS) to earn green certification when the buildings are renovated to be more sustainable and efficient. The NGBS accommodates building renovation activities from moderate renovation up to gut rehab and even conversions. NGBS Green is flexible, affordable, and rigorous and certification can help the building be eligible for a host of financing and other incentives.
